

BACHELOR OF

EDUCATION (TEACHING) EARLY CHILDHOOD

Early childhood teachers are among the most influential members of the community. The teaching and care they offer lay the foundation for success in education and in life. Teachers have the opportunity to deeply affect children in their care.

The programmes offered by Te Whānau o Ako Pai—the Wellington Faculty of Education give graduates the skills to take on this responsibility with confidence, and to enjoy the excitement, creativity, and fun of working with young children. We offer a strong focus on bicultural practice and you will benefit from our staff's extensive professional experience across diverse early childhood education services.

The Tohu Paetahi Whakaako—Te Kōhungahunga—Bachelor of Education (Teaching) Early Childhood (BEd(Tchg)EC) is a three-year degree for those wanting to gain a degree-level qualification in early childhood teaching. It is designed to prepare you for an exciting and stimulating career as an early childhood teacher, and successful completion will enable you to be eligible for provisional teacher registration with the Teaching Council of Aotearoa New Zealand.

This degree aims to develop professional teachers who are sensitive to human needs; flexible, adaptable, and resourceful people who can become leaders, able to work not only with young children but also with a variety of adults in the community.

Having successfully completed the BEd(Tchg)EC, you will:

- ▶ be responsible for managing and monitoring children's learning and development
- ▶ know the curriculum you teach and how to develop skills and knowledge in this area
- ▶ think effectively about your practice and learn from experience
- ▶ have knowledge of the context of early childhood education in Aotearoa New Zealand
- ▶ have undergone preparation to work in the early childhood services, including education and care, home-based care, kindergartens, and Pacific Island language nests.

SCHOOL SUBJECTS

Recommended school subjects include a balance of sciences, Mathematics, essay-based subjects such as English, Geography, and History, and Te Reo Māori. Creative subjects such as Design, Music Studies, and Practical Arts are also useful.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

As you are required to have a working knowledge of a range of early childhood education centres, you will undertake 24 weeks of teaching experience across the three years of the degree.

An alternative pathway is to complete an undergraduate degree first, or be a qualified primary school teacher, and then apply to enrol in the one-year Pōkairua Paetahi Whakaako (Te Kōhungahunga)—Graduate Diploma of Teaching (Early Childhood Education). This programme is currently under review. See our Education publication or go to www.wgtn.ac.nz/education for more information.

For entry into any teaching programme, you will need to be assessed and accepted by the Wellington Faculty of Education as being suitable for the teaching profession. This involves meeting set criteria, having supportive referees, having a satisfactory police check, making declarations about any health or disability issues, and taking part successfully in a selection meeting that will include an interview and literacy and numeracy testing.

If English is not your first language, you will need to provide evidence of English language competency as outlined by the Teaching Council of Aotearoa New Zealand.

“I’ve always wanted to work with tamariki and be a teacher. I loved my studies, especially making friends who could support each other during our studies and being mentored by really great lecturers. I loved being able to experience different early childhood centres during our work placements. It helped me find my place as an early childhood kaiako, and meeting and working with different practitioners supported me to become the teacher I am today.

“Supporting tamariki through their learning journey is so special and rewarding. Every day is full of fun—early childhood centres are wonderful environments to work in. I absolutely think anyone interested in early childhood should give it a go!”
