The tasks are due on the following dates. Each section of a task is expected to be around 300 words or less.

Task 125 JulyTask 208 AugustTask 326 September

Assignment 13 October

N.B. Note that if no work is submitted for assessment before the last three weeks of teaching, there will be nothing on which to base an aegrotat consideration.

Tasks and assignments can be submitted as e-mail attachments. Please submit each one as a single document in WORD format or pdf, and e-mail them to LALS-511@vuw.ac.nz. If you send them by post, please include two copies of each assignment or task. The other will be retained for external examining. The postal address is on page 1 of this outline. The assignment topics and tasks are described in this course outline.

Assignment

Review research, theory and practice on an issue affecting the teaching of reading and/or writing and show the practical applications to your teaching situation.

OR

Design a unit of work on reading or writing which is ready to use. Comment on the features of your design. About one-third of the work for your assignment should be your commentary.

OR

Design and carry out a small piece of research focusing on reading or writing. [Please note: If you plan to choose this option, you should discuss your intention with John Macalister as soon as possible. This will allow time to plan and implement the research.]

Tasks

The three tasks total 40% of the final grade. They must be submitted on the assigned dates. This is to allow feedback on the tasks to be distributed soon after the submission of the task. The answers to each task should typically fit within two pages. The tasks are designed to draw on set reading and to get you to apply ideas covered in the course.

Task 1: Module 1 (due 25 July)

(10% of the final grade)

1 Explain how the technique of Shared reading fits into all four strands of a language programme (meaning focused input, meaning focused output, language focused learning, and fluency development). Which strand seems most important to you, and why?

2 What problems could you face in using the technique of Shared reading with a group of young non-native speaking beginners?

3 Choose one of Grabe's (1995) dilemmas and suggest two or three solutions that could apply in the situation you teach in.

Task 2: Modules 2, 3 and 4 (due 8 August)

1 Using the list of sound spelling correspondences in Appendix 1 of Teaching Reading and Writing, analyze the relative regularity of these five words - price, number, between, help, access.

Explain how the different spellings of bath and bathe reflect the different pronunciations. In addition note which correspondences in Appendix 1 of Teaching Reading and Writing apply.
Briefly comment on five different kinds of item in the Limestone text in the set readings

Briefly comment on five different kinds of item in the Limestone text in the set readings booklet that you could draw attention to in intensive reading. For instance, one kind of item could be some problematic words, another kind of item could be necessary background knowledge. Relate each of these to specific parts of the Limestone text. In your commentary say (1) why you have chosen to focus on this item, (2) how you will deal with it, and (3) how you expect focusing on it will have future value for the learners. TRW Chapter 3 and Nation (2004) may be useful in answering this question.

4 Suggest two practical ways you can ensure learners are reading at the appropriate level in an extensive reading scheme, and suggest two or three ways a teacher can monitor learners' reading without compromising the sixth of the Day and Bamford (2000) principles.

Task 3: Modules 7, 8, 9 and 10 (due 26 September)(15% of the final grade)

1 Design a ready-to-use shared or guided writing task (TRW Chapter 7) suitable for the level of learner you teach. Briefly comment on the main features of your activity.

2 Identify one part of the writing process learners you teach or have taught find difficult and describe three ways you could give feedback to learners (see Chapter 10 of Teaching Reading and Writing) to help them improve their skill at dealing with this part.

3 Use the question "Who writes what to whom, for what purpose, why, when, where, and how?" (Grabe and Kaplan, 1999: 203) to briefly analyse a writing context relevant to you or your learners. Pages 217-219 of Grabe and Kaplan list contexts etc you can choose from if you wish. Clearly identify your writing context, and present your answer in table form.

4 Design a post-reading activity for one of the School Journal texts based on the topic type (TRW Chapter 9). Briefly explain how the activity will contribute to learners' understanding of the text.

12. Penalties: Assignments and tasks must be submitted by the due date. There is no penalty for late submission but permission must be sought and a good reason given. Try to keep within the word limits especially for the tasks. Assignments and tasks which are plagiarised will not receive a grade and cannot be resubmitted.

13. Relationship between assessment and course objectives:

The assignment provides an opportunity to evaluate research, plan teaching, and carry out a small scale research project. The tasks assess the practical application of ideas and comprehension of the set texts and set readings.

14. Workload: LALS 511 is a fifteen point one-trimester paper. Course members should expect to spend about 12 hours per week for ten weeks on all the work for this course including lectures.

15. Mandatory Course Requirements (Terms): There are minimum course requirements which must be satisfied to be assessed for the final grade. In order to meet these requirements, course members must complete the 3 tasks

attend all the ten classes or participate at least once in each of the ten web-based discussions complete the assignment.

16. Attendance: On-campus course members must attend all ten lectures. If an absence is unavoidable, then the course member should participate in the Blackboard Discussion Board for that week. Course members studying by distance must make a contribution to each one of the ten Discussion Boards.

General University policies and statutes

General University policies and statutes

Students should familiarise themselves with the University's policies and statutes, particularly the Assessment Statute, the Personal Courses of Study Statute, the Statute on Student Conduct and any statutes relating to the particular qualifications being studied; see the Victoria University Calendar available in hard copy or under 'About Victoria' on the VUW home page at www.vuw.ac.nz.

Student and staff conduct

The Statute on Student Conduct together with the Policy on Staff Conduct ensure that members of the University community are able to work, learn, study and participate in the academic and social aspects of the University's life in an atmosphere of safety and respect. The Statute on Student Conduct contains information on what conduct is prohibited and what steps are to be taken if there is a complaint. For information about complaint procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct, contact the Facilitator and Disputes Advisor or refer to the statute on the VUW policy website at:

www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/studentconduct

The Policy on Staff Conduct can be found on the VUW website at:

www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/staffconduct

Academic grievances

If you have any academic problems with your course you should talk to the tutor or lecturer concerned; class representatives may be able to help you in this. If you are not satisfied with the result of that meeting, see the Head of School or the relevant Associate Dean; VUWSA Education Coordinators are available to assist in this process. If, after trying the above channels, you are still unsatisfied, formal grievance procedures can be invoked. These are set out in the Academic Grievance Policy which is published on the VUW website at:

www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/academicgrievances

Academic integrity and plagiarism

Academic integrity is about honesty – put simply it means no cheating. All members of the University community are responsible for upholding academic integrity, which means staff and students are expected to behave honestly, fairly and with respect for others at all times.

Plagiarism is a form of cheating which undermines academic integrity. The University defines plagiarism as follows:

The presentation of the work of another person or other persons as if it were one's own, whether intended or not. This includes published or unpublished work, material on the Internet and the work of other students or staff.

It is still plagiarism even if you re-structure the material or present it in your own style or words.

Note: It is however, perfectly acceptable to include the work of others as long as that is acknowledged by appropriate referencing.

Plagiarism is prohibited at Victoria and is not worth the risk. Any enrolled student found guilty of plagiarism will be subject to disciplinary procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct and may be penalized severely. Consequences of being found guilty of plagiarism can include:

- an oral or written warning,
- cancellation of your mark for an assessment or a fail grade for the course,
- suspension from the course or the University.

Find out more about plagiarism, and how to avoid it, on the University's website:
