COURSE AIMS:

PHIL222/322 will evaluate various philosophical answers to questions that arise in connection with the literary arts. Questions that will be asked include: Why is literature so important to philosophy? What exactly is literature? What is the difference between fiction and non-fiction? What makes a proposition true according to a work of literature? Do fictional characters exist? If not, how can we talk about them? What is the connection between moral value and literary truth? What is the role of intentions in interpretation of literature? Which interpretations are correct? What is the role of narration and the narrator in our interpretation of literature?

COURSE CONTENT:

A Lecture outline will be distributed separately

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

Students passing this course will have acquired a good understanding of some of the central issues in contemporary aesthetics and philosophy of literature. They will have a breadth of knowledge of the general literature as well as a depth of knowledge about a more limited range of issues within the field.

ESSENTIAL TEXTS:

You should purchase the PHIL222/322 coursebook from Student Notes, Ground Floor, Student Union Building.

OTHER TEXTS:

Any other important materials will be posted on "Blackboard."

Texts are available from Student Notes. Students can order textbooks and student notes online at www.vicbooks.co.nz, or email an order or enquiry to enquiries@vicbooks.co.nz. Vicbooks can courier books to customers or they can be picked up from either shop the day after placing an order online. Their telephone numbers are: Kelburn: 463 5515, Pipitea: 463 6160.

Opening hours: 8am – 6pm Mon–Fri (during term time); 10am – 1pm, Saturday

ASSESSMENT:

The assessment for this course will be based on two essays (each worth 45% of your total course mark) and ten pop quizzes (each worth 1% of your total course mark).

- (a) Pop Quizzes, worth 10% of total course marks. There will be ten pop quizzes over the course of the trimester. They will consist of four multiple-choice questions. The questions will not test comprehension, but will merely ensure that you have done the reading (even if you haven't understood it.) Each question will be worth 0.25 points. Each quiz is worth 1% of your grade.

Note: you must receive 50% or higher in total for the pop quizzes to pass the course

- (b) Essay 1: due 4pm, Monday 3 September 2007, worth 45% of total course marks.
- (c) Essay 2: due 4pm, Monday 8 October 2007, worth 45% of total course marks.

Students are required to write two essays. You may not write more than one essay on any one section of the course, that is, you may not write both essays from Stuart's section, or two from Sondra's section, or two from Ismay's section. There is no maximum or minimum word limit on the essays, but you should aim at writing approximately 2,500 words with no padding or waffle. Essay questions and instructions for the first essay will be posted on "Blackboard" on or before 22 July 2007.

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN ASSESSMENT AND OBJECTIVES

The essays give the students an opportunity for a relatively philosophically in-depth treatment of one of the issues covered in the course. The exam answers will require breadth of knowledge.

SUBMISSION OF WRITTEN WORK: SPECIAL REQUIREMENTS

All essays must be submitted digitally via "Blackboard"; select 'assignments' icon in the course menu. Make sure you save your file as a Microsoft Word document. The title of your file should follow the following format:

Last name, underscore, first name, essay number, dot, doc (for example brock_stuart1.doc).

If you have trouble using this function, make sure you see the course coordinator before the due date.

ELECTRONIC SUBMISSIONS

All essays will be submitted to and evaluated by TurnItIn.com, an on-line plagiarism detection service, before being graded. Plagiarised essays (no matter what the extent of the plagiarism will receive an automatic zero. Extreme cases may result in University academic disciplinary procedures being invoked. Please refer to the information below relating to plagiarism in order to avoid any confusion as to what constitutes plagiarism.

PENALTIES:

Essays submitted after 4pm on Friday 12 October 2007 are late.

However, penalties may be waived if there are valid grounds, e.g. illness (presentation of a medical certificate will be necessary) or similar other contingencies. In such cases prior information will be necessary. It is in your interests to contact the course coordinator as soon as a potential problem emerges – not just before a deadline. Extension forms are available in the Philosophy Programme office. If granted an extension by the course coordinator, students are required to agree to a new assessment due date.

ATTENDANCE

Attendance is recommended but not compulsory. It is the student's responsibility to catch up on missing material if they have missed a lecture. The lecturer will not cover material discussed in lectures on an individual basis.

MANDATORY COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Each PHIL222/322 student must:

- Submit the written work specified for this course, on or by the specified dates (subject to such provisions as are stated for late submission of work)

AND

- Achieve more than a 50% grade for the pop quizzes.

PLEASE NOTE that Friday, 19 October 2007 is the FINAL DATE on which any written work can be accepted by the Programme, since this is the date on which we must determine whether students have met the course requirements. This means that the provision for late submission with a penalty does not apply beyond this date. Permission to submit work after 19 October 2007 must be sought in writing from the Head of Programme, Dr Cei Maslen, and will only be granted for serious medical reasons (supported by medical certificate), or in case of serious personal crisis.

Note: A student who has obtained an overall mark of 50% or more, but failed to satisfy a mandatory requirement for a course, will receive a K grade for that course, while a course mark less than 50% will result in the appropriate fail grade (D, E or F).

Workload guidelines

In accordance with Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences Guidelines, this course has been constructed on the assumption that students will devote 15 hours per week to PHIL222. This includes 2 x 2 hour lecture/seminars.

AEGROTATS

Please note that under the revised Examination Statute (Sections 6-10) students may now apply for an aegrotat pass in respect of any item of assessment falling within the last three weeks before the day on which lectures cease. In the case of second trimester courses in 2007 the starting point for this period is Monday, 24 September 2007.

The following rules apply:

- Where a student is not able to sit a test falling within these last three weeks because of illness or injury etc., an alternative test will be arranged where possible. If the student has completed in the view of the course-supervisor, sufficient marked assessment relevant to the objectives of the course, an average mark may be offered.
- Where a student has an essay or other piece of assessment due in the last three weeks, and has a medical certificate or other appropriate documentation, the student will be given an extension.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY AND PLAGIARISM

Academic integrity is about honesty – put simply it means no cheating. All members of the University community are responsible for upholding academic integrity, which means staff and students are expected to behave honestly, fairly and with respect for others at all times.

Plagiarism is a form of cheating which undermines academic integrity. Plagiarism is prohibited at Victoria.

The University defines plagiarism as follows:

Plagiarism is presenting someone else's work as if it were your own, whether you mean to or not.

'Someone else's work' means anything that is not your own idea, even if it is presented in your own style. It includes material from books, journals or any other printed source, the work of other students or staff, information from the Internet, software programmes and other electronic material, designs and ideas. It also includes the organization or structuring of any such material.

Plagiarism is not worth the risk.

Any enrolled student found guilty of plagiarism will be subject to disciplinary procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct (www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/studentconduct) and may be penalized severely.

Consequences of being found guilty of plagiarism can include:

- an oral or written warning
- suspension from class or university
- cancellation of your mark for an assessment or a fail grade for the course.

Find out more about plagiarism and how to avoid it, on the University's website at:

www.vuw.ac.nz/home/studying/plagiarism.html.

GENERAL UNIVERSITY REQUIREMENTS

General University policies and statutes

Students should familiarise themselves with the University's policies and statutes, particularly the Assessment Statute, the Personal Courses of Study Statute, the Statute on Student Conduct and any statutes relating to the particular qualifications being studied; see the Victoria University Calendar available in hard copy or under 'About Victoria' on the VUW home page at www.vuw.ac.nz.

Student and staff conduct

The Statute on Student Conduct together with the Policy on Staff Conduct ensure that members of the University community are able to work, learn, study and participate in the academic and social aspects of the University's life in an atmosphere of safety and respect. The Statute on Student Conduct contains information on what conduct is prohibited and what steps are to be taken if there is a complaint. For information about complaint procedures under the Statute on Student Conduct, contact the Facilitator and Disputes Advisor or refer to the statute on the VUW policy website at:

www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/studentconduct

The Policy on Staff Conduct can be found on the VUW website at:

www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/staffconduct

Academic grievances

If you have any academic problems with your course you should talk to the tutor or lecturer concerned; class representatives may be able to help you in this. If you are not satisfied with the result of that meeting, see the Head of School or the relevant Associate Dean; VUWSA Education Coordinators are available to assist in this process. If, after trying the above channels, you are still unsatisfied, formal grievance procedures can be invoked. These are set out in the Academic Grievance Policy which is published on the VUW website at: www.vuw.ac.nz/policy/academicgrievances

Students with Impairments (see Appendix 3 of the Assessment Handbook)

The University has a policy of reasonable accommodation of the needs of students with disabilities. The policy aims to give students with disabilities the same opportunity as other students to demonstrate their abilities. If you have a disability, impairment or chronic medical condition (temporary, permanent or recurring) that may impact on your ability to participate, learn and/or achieve in lectures and tutorials or in meeting the course requirements, please contact the course coordinator as early in the course as possible. Alternatively, you may wish to approach a Student Adviser from Disability Support Services (DSS) to discuss your individual needs and the available options and support on a confidential basis. DSS are located on Level 1, Robert Stout Building: telephone: 463-6070 email: disability@vuw.ac.nz. The Disability Liaison Person for the Philosophy Programme is Sophia Zhao, tel. 463 5368 or email sophia.zhao@vuw.ac.nz

Student Support

Staff at Victoria want students to have positive learning experiences at the University. Each faculty has a designated staff member who can either help you directly if your academic progress is causing you concern, or quickly put you in contact with someone who can. In the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences the support contact is Dr Allison Kirkman, Murphy Building, room 407 and Dr Stuart Brock, Murphy Building, room 312. Assistance for specific groups is also available from the Kaiwawao Maori, Manaaki Pihipihinga or Victoria International.

In addition, the Student Services Group (email: student-services@vuw.ac.nz) is available to provide a variety of support and services. Find out more at: www.vuw.ac.nz/st_services/

VUWSA employs Education Coordinators who deal with academic problems and provide support, advice and advocacy services, as well as organising class representatives and faculty delegates. The Education Office (tel. 463-6983 or 463-6984, email at education@vuwsa.org.nz) is located on the ground floor, Student Union Building.
