Prescription

ARTH 112 is a critical and largely chronological survey of the history of art from the aftermath of the French Revolution to the present. The course introduces students to the language, theory and practice of art history by studying the key shifts in art practice that have occurred after 1800 in Europe, America and other parts of the world.

Course content

The aim of the course is to give students an understanding of the key shifts in art practice that have occurred since the French Revolution. The course is organised chronologically while drawing together various themes, issues and topics.

Students will be introduced to the historical terms and categories developed by art historians to explain the diversity of art since the eighteenth century. Within its broad chronology, ARTH 112 encourages students to see art as a product of particular times and places, and to appreciate that art's value is determined not by a set of universal and eternal standards, but in terms of particular social, political and cultural conditions and institutional frameworks.

In this way ARTH 112 expands upon conventional histories of art to question art history's assumptions and limits. The course recognises art history as a 'western' discipline developed to explain 'great' works of art, so we seek to alert students to the politics of such a project and to introduce material outside its terms, including the art of non-western and indigenous cultures, popular forms, new and alternative media, and design and craft traditions.

Course learning objectives (CLOs)

Students who pass this course should be able to:

1. understand the chronology of the history of art within this period;
2. analyse and interpret the art of this period within the relevant social, political and theoretical contexts;
3. gather and organise relevant information and evidence from published material (i.e. secondary sources) and to further their ability to construct an argument using this material;
4. present material which is coherent and well-written and which demonstrates an understanding and application of the conventions of academic writing (including appropriate citation, referencing and documentation).

Teaching format

ARTH 112 consists of 24 one-hour lectures and 9 one-hour tutorials.

Mandatory course requirements

In addition to achieving an overall pass mark of 50%, students must:

1. Submit one assignment
2. Submit one essay
3. Attend a minimum of seven tutorials
4. Sit the end-of-trimester exam

Workload

The University recommends that 200 hours inclusive of lectures and tutorials, be given to a 20-point course in order to maintain satisfactory progress, i.e. 16 hours/week.

This includes 24 hours of lecture attendance; 9 hours of tutorial attendance; and an estimated 167 hours spread over the 12 week lecture period and the ensuing examination preparation period.

Assessment

The course is assessed by means of one assignment, one essay and a final examination. The assignment is a short exercise designed to encourage first-hand observation of actual works of art. The essay will allow you to range more broadly over the course content. The final examination will test your grasp of key ideas and concepts from the entire course and your knowledge of specific works of art. In this way, the assessment should ensure that you have a sound knowledge of as much of the course as possible.

Assessment items and workload per item	%	CLO(s)	Due date
1 The assignment exercise is designed to encourage first-hand observation of actual works of art. Students will be given a selection of artworks on show on campus or in Wellington from which they will choose one. The assignment asks students to respond to a set of questions about the work they select. Assignment length: 1000 words.	20%	1, 2, 3, 4	5pm, Friday 8 August
2 One essay based on a selection of course-related topics. Assessment of your essays will be based on the following criteria: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Understanding and definition of question• Formulation and development of argument• Use of visual and written resources• Originality and independence of thought• Mechanics (legibility, presentation, grammar, spelling, documentation). Essay length: 1500 words.	30%	1, 2, 3, 4	5pm, Friday 26 Sept
3 The final examination is a two-hour examination consisting of a set of questions related to the entire course. The examination will test your grasp of key ideas and concepts within the chronological time frame of the course and your knowledge of specific works of art. Examination time: 2 hours.	50%	1, 2, 3, 4	Date and time of exam to be announced.

* Images from lectures will be available for viewing on Blackboard throughout the course. You are strongly advised to give yourself a regular weekly time to review the images.

Submission and return of work

Assignments and essays should be placed in the art history assignment box in the foyer of Old Kirk, Level 3 (ground floor). You must attach a signed cover sheet with your assignment and essay.

You must also submit an electronic copy of your assignment and essay. To submit an electronic copy via Blackboard, go to ASSIGNMENTS and click on View/Complete under ARTH 112 ASSIGNMENT or ESSAY. Fill in your details and follow instructions to upload your work.

Late assignments or essays should be handed in to your tutor or the Administrator. Your tutors will inform you when marked assignments will be returned. This takes place in tutorials.

Use of Turnitin

Student work provided for assessment in this course may be checked for academic integrity by the electronic search engine <http://www.turnitin.com>. Turnitin is an online plagiarism prevention tool which compares submitted work with a very large database of existing material. At the discretion of the Head of School, handwritten work may be copy-typed by the School and subject to checking by Turnitin. Turnitin will retain a copy of submitted material on behalf of the University for detection of future plagiarism, but access to the full text of submissions is not made available to any other party.

Extensions and penalties

Extensions

Art History has a policy that extensions will not be granted. If you have medical or other problems preventing you from meeting a deadline you must contact your tutor at the earliest opportunity.

Penalties

Without prior arrangements having been agreed with the tutor, late essays will be penalised by the deduction of two percentage points for each day beyond the due date.

Set texts

A handbook of readings, ARTH 112 Art History 2: After the Revolution, which you will use for tutorial and exam preparation, is available from vicbooks (www.vicbooks.co.nz).
