PRESCRIPTION

This course provides both a theoretical and a practical approach to writing scripts for the theatre. Particular topics covered are myth and story, dramatic and scenographic mise-en-scene, spoken dialogue, and both narrative and organic dramaturgy. Study is made of playscripts and theatre works in performance. Students pursue individual study of selected writers, and compile portfolios of their own original writing, including a full-length script.

COURSE CONTENT

This is a creative course employing a number of touchstone topics with which to work into and through the broader perspectives of script creation, paying particular attention to dramatic and narrative structure, action, and dialogue.

COURSE LEARNING OBJECTIVES (CLOS)

Students who pass this course should be able to:

- 1) Understand and apply the fundamentals of playwriting, such as dramatic structure(s), action, and character, to develop scripts.
- 2) Develop personal scriptwriting skills both in the area of locating and opening out ideas and in the habit of writing frequently and consistently.
- 3) Work with collaborators in performance processes in relation to dramaturgical principles.
- 4) Be familiar with the process of giving and receiving constructive feedback in a creative workshop environment.
- 5) Understand the process of rewriting, revision, and drafts.
- 6) Analyse work by contemporary playwrights, identifying strategies and dramaturgy employed and how it relates to her/his own writing practice

TEACHING FORMAT

Weekly open seminars, plus one-on-one meetings where needed.

MANDATORY COURSE REQUIREMENTS

In addition to achieving an overall pass mark of 50%, students must:

- complete all assignments within the stipulated deadlines and options, (subject to such provisions as are stated for late submission of work), and
- attend a minimum of 80% of weekly class sessions. Lecturer to be given prior notice of intended absence. Medical certificate or comparable documentation required for absence from two or more consecutive classes.

WORKLOAD

The expected workload for a 30 point course is 300 hours over the trimester or 20 hours per teaching week. At Honours level, it is expected that students will attend every seminar; if you expect to be absent from a class seminar, please contact the course coordinator in advance if possible. Seminars are held 3 hours per week. The remaining time (17 hours per week) will be spent reading class materials (plays and assigned reading) including scripts of peers (4 hours) feedback to your writing partner (1 hour), and developing and completing the assignments that are spread evenly through the length of the course (11 hours). This time includes preparing your working (printing, etc.) for workshopping. It should be noted here that a principle in the learning will be the idea of drafting, i.e., completing second/third versions of a creative assignment.

Marking Criteria: These assignments will be based on (1) the quality, imagination, and originality of the piece presented, (2) the sense that each assignment conveys of elements of thought and craft that have been presented as components within the teaching, and (3) the drafting and workshop process including development through successful incorporation of feedback. All assignments must be typed, properly formatted, and free of spelling, grammar, and typographical errors. Samples of standard manuscript format will be posted on the THEA 405 Blackboard site. Further details on these assignments, including relation of assessment to objectives, will be available early in the course.

Though students will be assessed individually for all assignment work, informal collaborations between students will be invited and encouraged outside the formal class times.

Please note: Marks for Honours level assignments and final course grades are not finalised until feedback from the external examiner has been considered. Honours grades gained in individual courses remain provisional until the overall final classification made by the Honours programme examination committee.
