Course learning objectives (CLOs)

By the end of CRIM 217 students who pass this course should be able to:

1. Describe a number of different theoretical approaches to understanding crime and explain how they are related to one another (As assessed in assignment 2 and the exam).
2. Describe a number of different theories of offending and explain how they contribute to our understanding of criminal behaviour (As assessed in assignment 2 and the exam).
3. Apply their knowledge of psychological approaches to understanding crime to a specific case study of offending. (As assessed in assignment 1)
4. Describe and critically evaluate a number of different psychological approaches to reducing crime (As assessed in assignment 2 and the exam).

Teaching format

The course includes twelve 2-hour lectures and ten 1-hour tutorials.

Attendance at tutorials is mandatory. In order to meet the mandatory requirements for this course you must attend at least 7 out of 9 tutorials.

Tutorials will start in the second week of trimester.

During the first week, you will be allocated to a tutorial group. Once you have been allocated to one of these groups, you should always attend at that time. If, for any unforeseen reason, you cannot attend your given time one week, then please see the course co-ordinator and you may be able to sit in on another tutorial.

Mandatory course requirements

In addition to achieving an overall pass mark of 50%, students must:

1. Submit assignment One and Two;
2. Attend at least 7 out of 9 tutorials; and
3. Sit the final exam.

Workload

You should spend a minimum of 13 hours per week working on CRIM 217. This includes attending class (one two hour lecture per week and one tutorial per week), reading and taking notes, working on assignments, and preparing for final examination. Obviously the time you spend on these activities will vary throughout the trimester and according to your individual study habits, but you might find the following useful in deciding how to allocate your time:

Task	Estimated workload*
Lecture attendance	22 hours (2 hours per week for 11 weeks)
Tutorial attendance	9 hours (1 hour per week for 9 weeks)
Assigned reading and notetaking	40 hours
Assignment 1	46 hours

Assignment 2	36 hours
Final exam preparation	47 hours

*Based on an overall workload of 200 hours for CRIM 217.

Assessment

Assessment items and workload per item		%	CLO(s)	Due date
1	Assignment 1 – 3,000 word essay	30%	1, 2, 4	Wednesday May 7, 4pm
2	Assignment 2 – 2,000 word essay	20%	4	Wednesday May 28, 4pm
3	Three hour exam	50%	1, 2, 4	TBA, during the University examination period (13 June – 2 July, 2014)

All pieces of assessment are due at 4pm on the due date unless prior arrangements have been made with the course convener.

Further details concerning these assessment items, including information about the assessment criteria for each item will be provided to students in the first week of trimester 1.

Submission and return of work

All written work should be placed in the essay box on the 9th floor of the Murphy building or sent to the course co-ordinator, Criminology Programme, Victoria University of Wellington, PO Box 600, WGTN 6140 by courier or registered mail postmarked no later than 4pm on the due date. Essays will be returned within tutorial times. Marked assignments not collected in lectures or tutorials can be collected at the Murphy 9th floor reception desk, between 2.00 and 4.00 pm only from Monday to Friday.

Extensions and penalties

Extensions

Assignments must be handed in by the due date. You are expected to make every effort to keep to this deadline.

An automatic extension of two days will be given to all students who request it from the course coordinator, without the need to provide a reason or supporting evidence. The request must be made via email and before the due date of the piece of assessment.

Extensions longer than two days will be granted only in exceptional circumstances, and should be sought from the course co-ordinator. An example of an exceptional circumstance would be illness, supported by a letter from a medical practitioner. Please note that lack of organisation, word-processing failures and other work demands are not “good reasons”.

Penalties

Late submission of work without permission will be penalised by the following deductions:

- One grade = period up to and including 24 hours past due date.
- Two grades = period from 24 hours up to and including 72 hours past due date.

Work that is handed in later than 72 hours without permission will not be accepted.
