

FACULTY OF HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

SCHOOL OF LINGUISTICS AND APPLIED LANGUAGE STUDIES

MASTER OF ARTS

LALS 512 PEDAGOGICAL GRAMMAR OF ENGLISH

15 POINTS

TRIMESTER 1 2014

Important dates

Trimester dates: 3 March to 2 July 2014

Teaching dates: This course is delivered in 2014 as an intensive course from 31 March to 11 April inclusive.

Easter/Mid-trimester break: 18 April to 4 May 2014

Last assessment item due: 9 June

Withdrawal dates: See www.victoria.ac.nz/students/study/withdrawals-refunds. If you cannot complete an assignment, see www.victoria.ac.nz/students/study/exams/aegrotats.

Class times and locations

This course is delivered in 2014 as an intensive course at RELC in Singapore from 31 March to 11 April (precise class times and locations to be announced). For distance students, the virtual venue is the LALS 512 Blackboard site.

Communication of additional information

Additional information about this course and information about any changes will be announced in on campus classes and posted on the course website in Blackboard.

Prescription

Study of the grammatical system of English with particular reference to frequency of data with a focus on using this knowledge for the preparation of teaching materials and assisting learners' language use.

Course content

After discussing what is understood by 'grammar', we investigate the challenges that second language learners face when it comes to acquiring L2 grammar (L2 English grammar in particular). We then characterise the main strands in L2 grammar pedagogy, and evaluate these with reference to research findings. Students will weigh the benefits of different interventions and learn to make judicious decisions about grammar-instruction. The course content is planned as follows:

class	topic
1	Setting the stage: Conceptions of "grammar"
2	Justifications for a focus on grammar
3	Textual enhancement
4	Processing Instruction
5	Interaction and feedback
6	Focused tasks in Task-Based Learning (TBLT)
7	Present – Practise – Produce (PPP)
8	From exemplars to patterns
9	Talking about grammar
10	Taking stock

Course learning objectives (CLOs)

Students who pass this course will be able to:

1. Make informed judgements about the need for their students to receive instruction intended to raise their awareness of particular L2 grammar features.
2. Accurately describe the morphological and syntactic regularities of English, using accepted terminology.
3. Make informed predictions about the likely benefits resulting from particular interventions intended to foster learning of particular L2 grammar features.
4. Identify the 'schools of thought' behind activities and exercises in textbooks intended for grammar learning.
5. Evaluate classroom activities intended to foster learning of a particular grammar feature.
6. Design informed classroom activities intended to foster learning of a particular grammar feature.

Teaching format

The course is delivered in two modes: on campus and by distance.

On campus classes are run as workshops.

For distance students, the course is delivered on-line through <http://blackboard.vuw.ac.nz>.

In both modes, students are expected to participate actively in activities and discussions.

Preparation for each class involves reading one or more articles and performing one or more small tasks.

Mandatory course requirements

To gain a pass mark in this course each student must:

- Submit all assignments
- Attend at least 8 of the 10 two-hour sessions (campus students)
- Respond to the above questions/tasks either on Blackboard (distance students) or in class

Workload

It is anticipated that students will invest 150 hours in this course, which includes attending classes / contributing to the discussion board on Blackboard, reading the essential and recommended texts, and preparing the assessment items. Time invested in preparing the assessment items is likely to vary from one student to the next, but each of the assessment items is estimated to require at least 10 hours of work.

Assessment

The following outlines the assessment components for LALS 512:

	Component	Value	Word count	Due date	CLOs
1.	Identify a grammar feature of English that is (a) problematic for a group of learners you are familiar with, (b) unlikely to be acquired without explicit instruction. Explain why. Contrast this with a feature that you expect to be acquired relatively easily by these learners without the need for instruction.	30%	1,500	7 April	1, 2
2.	Analyse and evaluate the way a grammar feature of your choice is tackled in a textbook.	30%	1,500	12 May	3, 4, 5
3.	Design a classroom activity (or a sequence of activities) of about 50 minutes intended to foster mastery of a chosen grammar feature. Describe the rationale for the proposed lesson.	40%	2,000	9 June	1, 2, 6

The criteria for marking are:

- Coherence and clarity of the argumentation
- Factual accuracy of the language description
- Linkage with relevant research literature

Submission and return of work

All assignments are to be submitted electronically via Blackboard. Feedback will be given to students also via Blackboard. Feedback on assignment one will be given within a period of one week after submission. Feedback on assignments two and three will be given within a period of two weeks after submission.

Extensions and penalties

No penalty will be imposed if you obtain permission to submit the assignment after the deadline. Late work will not be accepted unless prior arrangements have been made with the course coordinator. Also consult the course coordinator in case your text exceeds the word limit.

Materials

Apart from the mandatory reading (see below), you will need access to EFL/ESL textbooks or other EFL/ESL pedagogic materials for analysis and evaluation.

Set texts

Articles to exemplify (research on) diverse approaches to L2 grammar, and a time schedule for reading them, will be made available on the LALS 512 Blackboard site. You will typically be required to read two articles per class. These should be read before the relevant class.

Recommended reading

Additional articles on diverse strands of research on L2 grammar learning will be made available on Blackboard.

Students without any linguistics training will be required to familiarise themselves with descriptions of English grammar – it would be hard to make informed decisions about English grammar instruction if one had no metalinguistic knowledge of the morpho-syntactic features of the language. An English-grammar-in-a-nutshell document (devised by the course lecturer) will be available on Blackboard as minimal support. Many more exhaustive descriptive grammars of English are available. Among those the following have been found helpful by past cohorts of students:

Kennedy, G. (2003). Structure and meaning in English: A guide for teachers. Harlow, England: Pearson/Longman.

Biber, D., Conrad, S., & Leech, G. (2002). Longman student grammar of spoken and written English. Harlow, England: Pearson/Longman.

Class representative

The class representative provides a useful way to communicate feedback to the teaching staff during the course. A class representative will be selected at the first lecture of the course. Students may like to write the Class Rep's name and details in this box:

Class Rep name and contact details:

Student feedback

Enhancements made to the course based on the feedback of previous students will be covered during the course. Student feedback on University courses may be found at www.cad.vuw.ac.nz/feedback/feedback\_display.php.
